Jonathan E. Temchin is a partner in the Firm's Litigation Practice. Leveraging his corporate and commercial litigation knowledge, which spans multi-industrial clients of all sizes, Jonathan zealously advocates for his client's goals.

As a seasoned litigator, Jonathan has broad experience representing clients in complex commercial litigation matters, including:

- Business dissolutions and divorces
- Bankruptcy litigation
- Construction litigation
- Contracts, partnership, shareholder, and other business disputes
- Defamation and libel claims
- Employment litigation
- Intellectual property litigation
- Real estate litigation
- Restrictive covenants

A trusted advisor and a resolute advocate, Jonathan regularly appears and litigates in the state and federal courts of New York, as well as nationally, and before administrative agencies and arbitration panels.

Business Divorce

Jonathan has broad experience handling challenges that arise from private company disputes and failed business relationships. As a highly experienced litigator, Jonathan navigates the intricacies of the laws governing the internal affairs of closely held corporations, partnerships, and limited liability companies. He handles the issues related to private company disputes and business divorces, including:
