Julie Hung is an Associate* in the firm's Construction Practice. She represents owners, architects, engineers, general contractors, subcontractors, and public benefit corporations in construction transactions and litigation matters. Julie assists clients with negotiating and drafting construction project contracts and license agreements.

Julie draws on her experience as a former litigation paralegal and from her internships in real estate and employment law. During law school, Julie interned for judges in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of New York and Kings County Housing Court.

At Brooklyn Law School, Julie was a member of the Moot Court Honor Society, Appellate Division, and participated in several competitions. Julie also coached and mentored first-year students in moot court competitions on behalf of the Latin American Law Students Association and Black Law Students Association.
